HARRY AND SARAH STOWERS

Harry and Sarah Stowers embodied a love that continues to leave lasting fingerprints on our community, including the McNabb Center.

In 1960, Harry and his two brothers founded Stowers Machinery Corporation, the Caterpillar equipment dealer in East Tennessee. After managing the company's Chattanooga operations, he and Sarah moved to Knoxville in 1982.

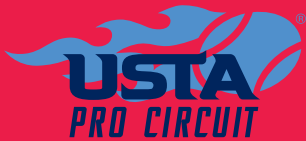

Together, they committed their time, talents, and resources to many worthy causes in our region. One of their most beloved passions was serving the McNabb Center. Harry was actively involved in every significant fundraising effort for the center from 1987 until his death. He served as executive chairman of the Helen Ross McNabb Foundation Board in 1994-95. The Center awarded Harry and Sarah with the prestigious McNabb Center Spirit Award in 2007.

Both Sarah and Harry dedicated themselves to the Center's programs, especially services for at-risk children.

Along with their community work, Sarah and Harry were sports enthusiasts. They were avid tennis players and fans. Among their greatest joys was watching family members play among the highest levels of the game. Harry also played basketball at Lehigh University.

Throughout their 55 years of marriage, Sarah and Harry exemplified kindness, generosity, integrity, love, and humility. Before Harry passed in 2007, he and Sarah worked tirelessly to help the McNabb Center provide essential services for people with the most needs and fewest resources in East Tennessee. Until her death in 2021, Sarah continued her beloved husband's legacy of philanthropy, inspiring countless others.

In honor of Sarah and Harry, the Stowers family serves as champions for the McNabb Center. Wes and Liz Stowers, Jenny Stowers and Adam Brock, and Stewart and Samantha Stowers, along with their eight grandchildren, continue Harry and Sarah's commitment to helping those in need.

SUPPORTING THE COMMUNITY

MCNABB CENTER

Dear fans, sponsors and supporters,

Welcome to the 2022 Knoxville Challenger!

We are excited to once again host the Challenger tournament in Knoxville and celebrate with you and some of the world's top tennis players!

Proceeds from the tournament benefit services provided to our community's most vulnerable citizens through the McNabb Center. The McNabb Center is a premier, not-for-profit provider of mental health services across East Tennessee. Over the past 74 years, the Center has stayed true to its mission of "improving the lives of the people we serve" through high quality, compassionate care to those in need.

This event would not be possible without hundreds of sponsors, volunteers and spectators. Together we are improving lives, and we are thankful for our great community partners.

Please join me in thanking Taylor Rodgers, our tournament director, and the committee members who have worked all year to make the Knoxville Challenger a first-class tournament experience. I would also like to recognize The University of Tennessee for its contribution. The Goodfriend Indoor Tennis Center is a state-of-the-art facility and serves as an exciting location for the tournament.

We have found a winning combination of tennis, charity and community – thank you for supporting the Knoxville Challenger and the McNabb Center!

HARRY'S LUNCH BUNCH

Harry Stowers began a once-a-month lunch meeting of friends in 1998. He challenged the group with general knowledge contests and trivia questions and required every member to be responsible for inviting a different guest speaker each month. 'Harry's Lunch Bunch' still has a standing reservation on the first week of every month at Cherokee Country Club in the Old Grill Room.
